

Wicks Declares Regents Political In Appointments

Senator Joins State U. Trustees' Battle and Says Every Regent Holds His Office 'Through Political Sources,' Cites Cases of Macy and Hinman

Albany, N. Y., March 16 (AP)—Members of the Board of Regents today heard charges of politics leveled against them as they prepared to battle Governor Dewey's administration in the Assembly.

The bitter fight over administrative control of 31 state-supported colleges which the regents are scheduled to give up to the state university trustees April 1 broke out anew last night.

Governor Dewey supports the trustees.

Senator Arthur H. Wicks, of Kingston, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee and one of Dewey's top legislative leaders, declared in a radio broadcast that every member of the regents had been elected "through political sources."

Wicks made the statement in attacking the regents-sponsored Condon-Barrett bill, which would prevent the trustees from assuming control of the state-aided schools.

Plea Made For Child

Boston, March 15 (AP)—A distraught mother pleaded tearfully today for the "love child" the state charges she kept captive a dozen years in a dungeon-like room.

"As God is my judge, I love my boy," cried Mrs. Ann F. Sullivan. "I don't want to give him up."

Police said 14-year-old bright-eyed Gerald Sullivan was held in a barren room, furnished only with a cot, until he escaped into the street in an unguarded moment Sunday night.

Mrs. Sullivan, suffering from what physicians described as a "terrible emotional upset," denied in an interview that she kept the child locked up in the room.

She explained that she kept him in the house to "hide my shame" and to "protect the good name" of two older legitimate sons and a younger daughter.

Mrs. Sullivan told her story as friends stood by the immaculately white bed to which she has been confined since her secret became public.

'Meant No Harm'

Weeping bitterly and burying her head occasionally in pillows, she sobbed:

"I didn't mean to do any harm to the little boy. I wasn't unkind to him. I felt that it was our cross, mine and Gerald's, and we had to bear it together."

"I loved him inside, but how could I show it. It was such a torture, such a shame, such a disgrace. No one will ever know."

Portugal Is Seen Likely To Sign Pact

Signature Might Come Despite Objections to Spain's Exclusion, Other Matters

Bases Are Factor Portuguese Reported Against Any Peacetime Leases

Washington, March 16 (AP)—Diplomatic authorities predicted today that Portugal probably will join the proposed Atlantic Security Pact despite Portuguese objections to Spain's "exclusion" and other matters.

A Portuguese Embassy statement last night made clear that the Lisbon Government has not yet reached a final decision and that questions about the treaty are still being asked of the American Government.

Portugal's chief objection appeared to be its expressed determination not to make any treaty commitment which would compel it to grant peacetime bases to a foreign power in the Azores Islands.

It was learned, however, that the state department is assuring the Portuguese government that the treaty would carry no commitment to grant bases.

The position of the United States and other pact countries on this point—as previously expressed also to Iceland and Denmark—is that the treaty will provide a "framework" in which the base issue can eventually be worked out.

With respect to Spain, the Portuguese statement said that country's "exclusion" could "only weaken the role of the Iberian peninsula in the Atlantic defense system."

Acknowledging that the Iberian peninsula was due to make a farewell call on Secretary of State Acheson today.

After he reports at home on the information he gained here about the treaty his government will decide whether it wants to participate.

Denmark's foreign minister, Gustav Rasmussen, left Washington last night after expressing satisfaction with his talks with Acheson and other state department officials. He said in a statement that Acheson had "stressed the purpose of the pact as being the maintenance of peace," had emphasized "its purely defensive character," and had described it as being "in close conformity with the charter of the United Nations."

Meanwhile, the nations which have been drafting the treaty have been drafting the treaty.

Holmes Is Winner In Saugerties in Mayoralty Race

Reid Is New Paltz Mayor; Schipp Is Victor in Ellenville Election

There were three spirited village election contests in Ulster county Tuesday, one of the most interesting being that in Saugerties village where the old line Citizens Protective Party had been ruled off the ballot by Supreme Court Justice Taylor on the grounds there had not been sufficient valid signatures to the petition to give the party candidates a place on the ballot.

In Saugerties the Taxpayers Party made a clean sweep despite a "write-in" campaign designed to re-elect the present mayor, Franklin S. Tongue, and Trustees Frank S. Tongue, Christy W. Hubers and William P. Kelly.

George Holmes, Saugerties' monument dealer, led the Taxpayers to victory as mayor with a vote of 842. Clum received 609.

Jesse Van-Gasbeck led the Taxpayers trustee ticket with 827 votes, Frank Schip received 812 votes and Elton Johnson 807 votes.

The defeated candidates on the Citizens Protective Party ticket received the following votes: Frank S. Kelly, 639; Christy W. Hubers 639 and Franklin S. Tongue 611 votes. Other votes cast for trustees were: Henry York 1, F. P. Clum 4, John P. Kelly 1, Joseph L. Keenan 1, Frank Hughes 1. The total popular and valid ballots numbered 384.

Franklin S. Tongue received one vote for mayor. There were 128 blank and void ballots cast for mayor. The total number of voters was 1580.

In Ellenville the Democratic Party swept into office with the election of Henry L. Schipp as mayor with 885 votes over his Republican opponent, Homer Rippey who received 556 votes.

Kenneth L. Mitchell was elected trustee with 812 votes along with his running mate, Cyrus L. Leary who received 740 votes. The defeated Republican candidates for trustee were Frank Muller with 673 votes and W. Boels Craft with 671 votes.

There were 1,498 votes cast Tuesday by Ellenville village voters. This was not as large a vote as has been cast in the past. In 1948 there were 1,630 votes cast when a spirited contest developed for election of a police justice.

In New Paltz Dr. Robert Reid, unopposed, was elected mayor to succeed Mayor D.V.Z. Bogert who declined re-nomination.

For village trustee Roland C. Will received 289 votes, C. Lester

Showdown To Come on Rules Move

Long Filibuster Is Over in Senate; Lucas Is Bitter Over Loss of Civil Rights Bill

Strength Is Seen

Southerners Prove Their Point on Being Able to Stall Action

Washington, March 16 (AP)—Its long filibuster over and an alliance of Republicans and southern Democrats in control, the Senate today moved toward a showdown on a modified talk-gagging change in its rules.

Before the chamber is a majority-backed proposal—bitterly opposed as ineffective by a minority made up of Truman Democrats—to let the "yes" votes of 64 of the 96 senators end debate on most business.

Republicans and southern Democrats who sponsored it write into this compromise a provision for unlimited debate whenever a motion is made to change the Senate rules.

That's the kind of a motion—made February 28 by Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois—which kept the Senate knotted in a filibuster that came to a dramatic end at 11 p. m. last night.

At that hour, bipartisan circulators of the compromise announced they had the pledges of 52 members to support it, and it alone. The 52 included 30 Democrats and 22 Republicans.

At a signal, Senator Olin Johnston (D-S. C.) ended a four hour and 20 minute speech. He was the 44th Democrat to hold the floor since the controversy began last month.

Johnston sat down.

The filibuster was over.

Senators were summoned by a quorum call. Vice President Barkley called for a vote on the motion Lucas had made 16 days before.

That motion—it carried 78 to 0—was to take up a resolution offered by Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the G.O.P. floor leader, and Senator Hayden (D-Ariz.). It proposes that two-thirds of senators voting be permitted to gag debate at any time.

Introduces Substitute

Immediately after the vote making that the pending measure before the Senate, Wherry introduced the substitute proposal—calling for a constitutional two-thirds or 64 senators—as an amendment.

That meant the substitute would be voted upon before the original resolution since it already is backed by 52 senators its acceptance became assured.

In the beginning, the simple two-thirds plan was acceptable to Lucas, most of the Truman Democrats.

Ardonia Man Gets 2 1/2 to 5 Years for Shooting Woman

William Richardson of Ardonia, who shot and injured Mrs. Lily Simpson, 33, of Ardonia last December, entered a plea of guilty to assault, second degree, in county court this morning before Judge John M. Cashin and was sentenced to a term of from 2 1/2 to 5 years in Clinton State Prison. Joseph Avis appeared for the defendant.

Charles Pullman, charged with forgery, second degree, in two counts for an act allegedly committed on January 13, last, was committed on January 13, last, on a plea of guilty to the charge and will be sentenced on March 22. Harry Gold appeared by assignment for the defendant.

William D. Thornton, 42, of 104 Elm street, Saugerties, was arraigned on a charge of criminal negligence resulting in death.

Thornton entered a plea of innocent, and Richard Overberg who appeared for N. LeVan Haven, counsel, asked for 30 days to make a report. Thornton was the driver of the car which allegedly struck and crushed Arthur Cook, 46, of Quarryville against the Blue Stone Lodge at Quarryville on the early morning of January 25.

Cook died from the injuries. The accident happened after a party at the lodge and when Thornton and Cook were leaving the place. Bail was continued.

Robert Garrett, who was charged with having given a check which on presentation was found to be uncollectable, had the charge dismissed on motion of his counsel H. Davis of Poughkeepsie. Garrett gave two checks but they were not presented at the bank for collection by the complainant for some time. At the time the checks were given there were funds in the bank to cover them but when later presented there were not sufficient funds to cover the checks. Under these circumstances the criminal charge was dismissed. Bail was exonerated.

Court recessed until 2 o'clock when the jury will be present.

Jury Will Call O'Dwyer to Talk On Wiretrap Plot

Ryan Says Things Look as Though Mayor Is in Panic; to Show Films

New York, March 16 (AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer will be asked to appear before the grand jury probing the alleged wiretapping plot against city officials, a spokesman for the district attorney said today.

The mayor broke the news of the wiretapping expose in the early morning hours last Saturday and participated in the all-night questioning of two men allegedly involved.

The spokesman said O'Dwyer would be asked to testify Friday about this questioning.

Clendenen J. Ryan, multi-millionaire foe of the mayor and Fusion leader, who is appearing before the grand jury in the investigation, told newsmen "it looks to me as though Mayor O'Dwyer is in something of a panic." He would not amplify the remark.

Secret motion picture films have given a Hollywood thriller twist to the wiretapping mystery.

A private investigator told newsmen yesterday the pictures will be "very favorable" to charges made by Ryan. He said the pictures were taken with a camera equipped with a telescopic lens from an automobile moving near O'Dwyer's official residence.

"This is documentary evidence," said the investigator, Charles Lester Sabisky, 33, of Newark, N. J. Sabisky said he was employed as a "camera technician" by John G. Broady, attorney for Ryan, a key figure in the widening investigation of an alleged plot to tap the telephone wires of the mayor and 75 other city officials.

The investigator, who said he had a grand jury subpoena in his pocket, claimed his films showed "three or four males." Asked if they are friends of the mayor, Sabisky said "I should think they would be in order to get the jobs they have."

Sabisky said the films were taken on East River Drive "somewhere between East 60th and East 86th street." The mayor's official residence, Gracie Mansion, is on East River Drive at 88th street.

Nothing Is Done on Proposed Salary Boosts for Officials

Final legislation on previously introduced bond issues totalling $180,425 was enacted by the Common Council in a recessed session last night, but the aldermen postponed action on salary increases for the mayor and other city officials until a later meeting.

Last night's action authorized issuance of serial bonds in the principal amount of $92,000 on the $100,000 earmarked for street improvement, the amount being less $8,000 in capital notes for initial payment.

Similar action approved $9,000 in the principal amount on $10,000 for addition to the city incinerator; $18,000 on the $20,000 for a sewer project; $44,000 of the $47,925 for public works machinery and equipment and $2,000 on the $2,500 for partial reconstruction of the downtown recreation center.

Previous legislation had authorized issuance of the required preliminary capital notes as down payments in anticipation of the sale of serial bonds.

A finance committee report on the $47,925 for public works equipment was approved at the regular session March 1, but the report of the Laws and Rules Committee was not adopted until last night. The Finance Committee at the regular meeting recommended a slice of $19,385 from the amount originally sought.

Final reading and adoption of the local law which will raise the salaries of the mayor and several city officials, was expected at last night's session, but was postponed until a later meeting.

Each "law" on the salary increases has already been introduced, moved for adoption and seconded, and legislation authorizing the increases, which will be effective next year, is expected to be enacted at the April session of the council.

Aldermen John Buboltz, fourth ward; Joseph Amato, fifth ward; and Patrick Simpson, sixth ward, were absent last night.

Agriculture Group Says Distributors' Earnings Low

Albany, N. Y., March 16 (AP)—The state temporary commission on agriculture reported today that representative milk distributors in New York city earn an average of two-thirds of a cent a quart on the sale of fluid milk.

In a report to the Legislature on an investigation of the so-called milk price "spread" in the New York city market the commission said the profit was computed before federal and state taxes.

Democratic members of the commission immediately branded the report "a whitewash of the milk companies."

In a joint statement, Senator Samuel L. Greenberg of Manhattan and Assemblyman James G. Lyons of Monticello, Democrats, declared the report still "does not answer the question of the spread."

the difference between the price paid to the farmer and the price paid by the consumer.

The commission reported that an analysis of the home sales of fluid milk by 10 companies showed that returns ranged from a loss of 0.9 cents a quart to profits of 2.1 cents a quart before taxes.

The report added that returns on milk delivered to stores for resale ranged from a loss of 2 cents a quart to a profit of 1.6 cents a quart before taxes.

Profits and losses varied between companies, the report said. Returns also differed according to the types and size of containers in which milk was sold and according to whether it was plain or homogenized.

The report asserted that the handling of present costs in the cutting, processing and distribution of milk is the only sound

Dewey Has To Abandon Pay-Go Plan

Assembly G.O.P. Favors Compromise With No Dissension at Parley at Capitol

Passage Is Asked Dewey Sends Message Asking Both Bodies Act at Once

Albany, N. Y., March 16 (AP)—Governor Dewey asked the Legislature today for immediate passage of his revolt-modified but record-high budget as "necessary and desirable."

Both Senate and Assembly were expected to vote the budget by nightfall.

The budget retains all of Dewey's proposed $936,200,000 spending program intact but provides for a $48,000,000 cut in the $168,200,000 tax increases asked by him.

In emergency messages making possible immediate enactment of the budget by the Republican-controlled Legislature, Dewey called for a quick vote.

Dewey's special messages were necessary to waive the required three-day waiting period for action on amended legislation.

The budget was approved by Republicans in a party conference approved unanimously the compromise reached between Dewey administration Senate leaders and the Republican tax rebels.

Although both sides appeared satisfied, the Erie and Westchester blocs, which led the bitter revolt, felt they had won a signal victory by slashing proposed tax increases.

As worked out at a conference of Senate Republicans late yesterday, the compromise provides for a $48,000,000 cut in the $168,200,000 tax increases asked by the governor and approval of all of Dewey's requested appropriations, totaling $936,200,000.

Method of Achievement

The tax cut will be achieved by: 1—Abandonment of Dewey's requested boost of one cent a gallon in the gasoline tax. The levy now is four cents a gallon.

2—Collection of only 90 per cent of the full rate of personal income tax. Dewey had proposed levying the full rate.

Dropping of the one-cent jump in the gasoline tax will save motorists an estimated $20,000,000 in the fiscal year starting April 1.

The 10 per cent income tax abatement will save taxpayers an estimated $25,000,000.

Ninety per cent collection of the full income tax rate means a 50 per cent increase over payments in 1948, when collection was at 60 per cent of the normal rate.

The $48,000,000 slice off the tax program will be made without a corresponding cut in appropriations. This will be accomplished largely by floating, if necessary, short term grade-crossing elimination bonds.

Despite the paring of the tax increase, Dewey's budget remains by far the highest in the history of the state. Appropriations last year totaled $812,000,000 and expenditures are estimated at $784,000,000.

By revising Dewey's fiscal program, the Republican rebels handed the governor his first major legislative setback in his more than six years in Albany.

Of the compromise, Senator Phiny W. Williamson, leader of the Westchester G.O.P. insurgents, said: "I am not satisfied but I am content. We shall continue to fight against the constantly increasing costs of government—national, state and municipal."

156th Recruiting Drive Endorsed By Msgr. Drury

The following endorsement of the recruiting drive of the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, which is now underway here, comes from the Right Rev. M. J. Drury, pastor of St. Mary's Church and dean of Ulster and Sullivan counties:

St. Mary's Rectory
Kingston, N. Y.

March 11, 1949.

Captain J. Martell
156 FABN
State Armory
Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Captain Martell:

I am very happy to endorse the movement increasing the National Guard units. Never was our beloved country more in need of the active interest and substantial support of its citizens than today. If freedom is everybody's business, it is particularly the business of the youth of the nation, whose whole future happiness and prosperity depends on maintaining the American way of life which has been handed down to them. That is a sacred trust. The National Guard offers the youth of our community an opportunity to give that service to their country and at the same time safeguard their own future.

There is also a very personal advantage to the young men who join such an organization. It gives them an opportunity not only for service but for self-development and self-discipline which is the foundation of all leadership. I hope that our young men will take advantage of the wonderful opportunities the National Guard offers them. Certainly the members of the Guard enjoy the respect and gratitude of all right-minded patriotic citizens.

Very sincerely,
RT. REV. MSGR. MARTIN J. DRURY, F.R.V.F.

Father, 13, Asks Help In Finding Work

Kalamazoo, Mich., March 14 (AP)—A 13-year-old father was job hunting today but finding work "pretty hard to find."

Carl Harvey Blake, Jr., who produced a Van Buren county birth certificate to prove his age, married his 16-year-old wife, Winifred, 10 months ago. She gave birth to a five pound, 10 ounce son at a Paw Paw Hospital February 23.

The 176-pound youngster, who lives at Paw Paw, appealed to a radio station (WKZO) to help him find a job.

"Work is pretty hard to find, anyhow," he told News Editor Tony Gaston of the radio station, "but due to my age it is even worse."

Blake, who told Gaston he left school after the sixth grade, said he would "work at anything" but preferred a job near his home at Paw Paw. Gaston promised to ask his radio audience to help in the job hunt.

RED CROSS LOCAL SERVICES
The services of the American Red Cross in the national and international fields do not comprise entirely the work of this great humanitarian organization. Many local services also are made possible through funds contributed in the annual financial campaign, which now is underway.
Locally there is a first aid and water safety program conducted throughout the county. In addition there are first aid classes and home nursing classes and through the Ulster County Chapter the Red Cross programs of service and education are carried to the people of the county. The local chapter also is the means through which local people may participate in Red Cross services to the armed forces overseas and in the hospitals throughout the country.
The slogan of this year's drive is "Across the Street, Across the Nation, Across the World, You Can Help."
Everybody knows what the Red Cross does both in time of peace and in war and everybody should support it most generously.
HABIT-FORMING CRIME
Every once in a while some spectacular crime is accomplished which attracts the attention of the whole nation, and usually it also attracts attention to the inadequacies of our penal systems. When two young bandits halted a passenger train in West Virginia the other night and robbed it in Jesse James style, their crime was certainly spectacular enough. And when the bandits were caught and their records examined, people immediately began to ask questions about crime and punishment.
At the ages of 23 and 21, the two had police records of six and nine years, respectively. One had been placed on probation once and twice paroled, and had been in the hands of police no more than a month before the train robbery. The other had been placed on probation twice, despite violation of the first probation, and somehow gained quick release after a third reformatory sentence.
These two young men apparently were the beneficiaries, or perhaps they should be called the victims, of a penal system which perhaps was intended to be progressive and lenient but was just careless. More and more people are beginning to agree that the theory of punishment for crime should be modernized, but this does not mean criminals should be turned loose as fast as they are caught. Crime, when perpetrated without detection or too lightly punished, is habit forming. But prisons which do nothing more than punish criminals are likely to be schools for crime.
We need systems of courts and prisons which have time to study criminals as individuals, and are staffed with people who know how to do it. We need to tackle the job of correcting criminals, instead of just slapping their wrists or getting them out of the way temporarily.
RESPONSIBLE YOUTH
Sheriff William C. Harris of Savannah, Georgia, has recently deputized over a thousand children as "Junior Sheriffs", in order to familiarize them with laws of the county and their enforcement. He hopes in this way to cut down the rate of juvenile delinquency.
This experiment in entrusting the youth with responsibility calls to mind an old institution in Freeville, N. Y., known as the George Junior Republic, for its founder, W. R. George. There teen-age youngsters who have started on the downward path are members of a well-organized community which they run themselves. The result is shown by the quality of the 6,000 former residents, many of whom now occupy positions of trust and importance. The motto of the Republic is "Nothing Without Labor."
Children who break laws often do so with a sense of adventure. Helping to make their own laws, as they do in the Junior Republic, or getting to know the inside workings of enforcement agencies, as do the Junior Sheriffs in Savannah, gives young people some of the same sense of adventure and in-

SINKIANG
We talk a lot about one world, but there is a lot of the world we know nothing about. Out of an area in China, which is called Sinkiang, in the history of the human race have come vast numbers of peoples who have not only conquered Europe but have settled there to form some of the nations that are now our problem.
In this area are such cities as Kashgar, Yarkand, Khotan, Urumqi, Turfan—cities that have played great roles in European as well as Asiatic history. Out of the Tarim Basin came the peoples whom we know as the Turks, both Seljuks and Osmanli, the Hungarians (Magyars), the Selythians who peopled the Balkans, and many others about whom historians dispute. India, Afghanistan, and Russian Turkistan lie on its borders. The Russians have built a railroad, the Trans-Siberian, on the borders of Sinkiang, connecting the trans-Caspian sea to the trans-Siberian, on the borders of Sinkiang centering in the city of Alma-Ata.
This is an important area in the politics of the world. It is the mainland route from Russia to Western China. The people there are mostly not Chinese. Among them are nearly 5,000,000 Turkish Moslems, people who are the vestiges of the great Turkish empire that held Central and Western Asia, Europe, to the gates of Vienna, and North Africa. These people have never liked the Chinese. In China, there are about 12,000,000 Tungs or Moslem Chinese who have maintained a relationship to the whole Moslem world. How important this is can be noted from the fact that China always voted against Israel in the United Nations because Chiang Kai-shek dared not antagonize his large Moslem population.
These people are mostly nomads. They live in mountains and desert and their life is hard. Today they are surrounded on all sides by the power of Soviet Russia and there is no government in China they can look to. It is important for Soviet Russia to take Sinkiang which is now being done. It is important because it is possible out of Sinkiang to develop a Pan-Turanian movement, a reuniting of all Turkish peoples, outside of Turkey, in Azerbaijan in Iran, in Afghanistan, in Kurdistan and elsewhere in Central Asia where vestigial Turkish elements remain. In this vast Sinkiang, larger than Great Britain, France and Germany put together, Russia can build a powerful Turkish force for the conquest of India and even for service in Western Asia and in Europe. These races once were on the march and they made history. The great Genghis Khan won his great victory over Christian Europe in the 13th century. From here he and his descendants dominated an empire that included the whole of what is now Russia and China. It was from the Tarim Basin that these mongols marched into Tibet and Kashmir and in time established the mogul empire of India which lasted up to the British control of that sub-continent. It was through this area that Mahayana Buddhism and Islam, its cities and eventually Korea and Japan. Its cities were the highway between ancient Greece, ancient Palestine and ancient India and China.
There Russia is now expanding fearfully. And there can be no resistance, for the Turkish peoples and the Chinese in Sinkiang can have no assistance from anywhere. The Russians are able to prove their strength by the collapse of Chiang Kai-shek's army and the millions of people living under their rule and millions in a feudal state, they know nothing about such concepts as democracy. All they can know is that either surrender or fight—and fight alone. Beside, many of their kinsmen live across the border in the Kirghiz, Kazak, Uzbek areas of Russia.
N. L. D. McLean, writing on this subject, points to the fact that Moslem Turkish people live from the Dobruja in Bulgaria to the borders of Mongolia. He says:
"Just as in Europe much of Soviet political strength comes from Pan-Slavism linked with Moscow . . . so in Central Asia today there are signs that the Soviets are trying to create a Pan-Turanian movement linked with Moscow."
It is something to know even if we can do nothing about it.

That Body of Yours

DRY CLIMATE FOR RHEUMATISM
One of the advantages of going to a different climate for the treatment of a special disease—heart, lungs, rheumatism—is the change of surroundings. A change of scene gives the mind a lift, unless the patient is one of the many home lovers who are not happy away from home.
For these who are unhappy away from home, it is interesting to know that for some diseases and symptoms the climate they need to get relief can be brought to them. I have in mind particularly the climate best suited for rheumatic conditions.
A warm, moist climate helps heart and nerve cases. And these patients are satisfied to rest—the treatment most needed and have no desire to engage in any kind of activity.
In regard to rheumatism and arthritis, it is known that a hot, dry climate is best for patients with painful joints and muscles. Thus, in some of the western states—Arizona, Colorado, parts of California, Nevada—many eastern patients are treated every year.
What can be done for patients who are unhappy away from home or cannot afford to go to the special climate most suitable for them?
In "Arthritis of Rheumatic Diseases" London, Dr. G. Edstrom, G. Lundin, and T. Wranmer report that for the last six years they have had one ward in the rheumatologic department of the University Hospital in Lund, Sweden, constantly air-conditioned at about 88 degrees Fahrenheit and humidity at 35 per cent. This is much warmer and drier than could be found elsewhere than in a very dry climate.
In this ward, these physicians have treated arthritic patients, each of them for about 100 days. The treatment of the blood and in the outer part of the body skin and tissues beneath the skin improved in all patients, particularly in the hands and feet. Harmful organisms found in the blood, often a factor in causing rheumatism and arthritis, were killed by this hot, dry air in the room.
General results from this hot, dry air treatment for 100 days were reduction in swelling of the skin and joints, relief from pain, disappearance of the blue appearance of hands and feet and better appetite.
The symptoms did not return when the patients moved back to an ordinary room.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round
By Drew Pearson

Washington—The North Atlantic Pact, most important international agreement since President Monroe set forth the Monroe Doctrine, will be released to the public later this week. Meanwhile, it can be revealed that the pact embraces all of Europe and the United States plus the Atlantic ocean north of the Tropic of Cancer.
In this huge area, no aggressor nation, in the present instance, presumably Russia, can attack any ship, airplane, or territory of the North Atlantic allies without automatically incurring the joint opposition of all the other allies.
Furthermore, should Russia attack U. S. forces in the American Zone of Berlin, the other signatory nations would be obligated to side with the United States. Actually, the American Zone of Berlin is not mentioned in the treaty, but it is included in the geographical area.
Also included in the geographical area is most of Mexico and French North Africa.
The pact does not call for an automatic declaration of war. Furthermore, it preserves the structure of the United Nations and provides for consultation under it. Nevertheless, Article 5, the most important part of this historical treaty, states categorically:
"The parties agree that an armed attack upon any one of the signatories constitutes an armed attack upon all, whether the attack takes place in Europe or North America."
Article 7 also states: "If such an attack takes place, each will exercise the right of self-defense recognized by international law and each party to the agreement will act under Article 51 of the United Nations Charter to report the attack to the Security Council and go to the defense of each other."
"An armed attack," it is also stated, "means any intrusion on the territory of any nation in Europe or in North America."
Summary of Pact
A brief summary of the historic treaty follows:
Art. 1—Lays down the principle of peaceful settlement of international differences.
Art. 2—Specifies that the signers shall collaborate economically as well as politically and militarily.
Art. 3 and 4—Outline the elemental principles—after which the signers will mutually assist each other and consult with each other.
Art. 5—Quoted above, invites recognition of the fact that an attack directed against one among them is an attack directed against all, and asks them to take immediate action.
Art. 6—Sets forth the description of what constitutes an armed attack and gives the geographical limits in which the attack must take place—north of the Tropic of Cancer.
Art. 7—Defines the relation between the Atlantic Pact and the United Nations, and recognizes the supreme authority of the security council for maintaining the peace of the world.
Art. 8—Declares that the pact recognizes the validity of existing international obligations to which the signers of the pact may already be obligated.
Art. 9—Describes plans to render the terms of the pact effective.
Art. 10 and 11—Contain the usual final clauses relative to the admission of eventual other signers and the duration and ratification of the pact.
75-Cent Minimum Wage
Only insiders know how close the 75 cents-an-hour minimum wage bill came to being ambushed in the House Labor Committee. It was finally reported out only after Chairman John Lesinski of Michigan and fellow Democrat Graham Barden of North Carolina exchanged verbal hand grenades behind closed doors.
The two Democrats who rescued the minimum-wage bill were C. M. Bailey of West Virginia and Hugo Sims of South Carolina. Wood of Georgia, Wingate Lucas of Texas, and Barden—voted with nine Republicans against the 75-cent minimum wage. After it was over, Barden voted with the 13 Democrats and one Republican, Boehm of Ohio, in a 15-6 ballot to report the bill. Wood and Lucas still voted no, along with four Republicans. Other Republicans voted "present."
Before the showdown, however, Barden angrily charged Lesinski with "trying to buy Congressman Sims' vote."
"I don't know what you mean," shot back Lesinski. "We're not offering concessions to anyone to vote with us. Everyone on this committee is entitled to express and vote his views. I haven't attempted to influence the gentleman from South Carolina."
North Carolina vs. South Carolina
Sims, a former combat paratrooper, didn't seem to need a spokesman. Looking squarely at Barden of North Carolina, Sims of South Carolina snapped: "I have been for a strong minimum-wage bill from the start. The record will show it. Even before we started hearings I predicted the bill would pass Congress."
"As a southerner, I would like to add that higher minimum wages for working people is one of the solutions to economic problems in the South."
Barden upbraided Lesinski for not inviting him to off-the-record caucuses on minimum-wage strategy.
"I resent your dictatorial attitude the way you're trying to put this legislation over behind our backs," Barden challenged. "As ranking majority member of this committee, I had a right to be called in and told what is going on."
"I phoned your office and your secretary told me you were out of town," explained Lesinski.
"Yes, I know," retorted the North Carolinian, "but you didn't tell my secretary about these caucuses you've been holding. You could have invited me through him if you really wanted to have me present."
Later, Barden, an able congressman, apologized for the outburst and joined with the committee majority in finally voting out the minimum-wage bill.

Struggle Is Going On in United States Senate; Fundamental Issue Is Touched
By DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington, March 16—A momentous struggle is going on in the Senate of the United States which really isn't concerned with any one issue but touches a fundamental proposition—to what extent shall minority groups "high pressure" the upper House of Congress and force that body to become a rubber-stamp for those minorities?
The superficial claim that the issue involved in the controversy over Senate rules is whether the majority or two-thirds shall be able to shut off debate is being accepted by a large number of people because the truth of what is happening has never been objectively explained to them.
For one thing, the so-called civil-rights issue is a phony. Everybody who knows anything about national politics knows that most of the Republicans and Democrats who come from states where substantial blocs of Negroes are banded together by their leaders for pressure at the polls have not the slightest intention of going as far toward federal intervention in state matters as they profess when they so ardently support the so-called civil-rights program.
Now the civil-rights legislation which the President and a number of the members of Congress from the north are advocating is a measure that would allow the exercise by the federal government of police power in the states. The hypocrisy of such a position would be illustrated the moment anybody in the Senate offered, for instance, an amendment to the proposed Hart-Celler repeal bill making it possible for the federal government to step in and police violence in labor disputes. The C.I.O. and A.F.L. and all the northern Democrats would promptly vote down any such amendment, notwithstanding the fact that "civil rights" really means protection for whites as well as Negroes where the states and cities do not furnish adequate police protection.
The question of whether the rules of the Senate should provide for closing of debate when two-thirds want that done would undoubtedly have been resolved satisfactorily within the last fortnight if the administration had not been playing politics with the civil-rights issue. As long as the administration insists on putting through Congress any legislation usurping the police power of the states in the matter of enforcing constitutional guarantees, the senators have principle on their side.
Certainly the discrimination practiced against negroes is immoral and contravenes the spirit, if not the letter, of the Constitution of the United States, but as long as it is the constitutional duty of the states to preserve law and order, the ends sought by the sponsors of civil rights will be better served by adherence to constitutional methods.
The Republicans who are siding with the northern Democrats are playing politics, too. They get considerable satisfaction out of the discomfiture of their majority brethren, but at the same time they pose before northern constituencies as defenders of civil rights.
The issue in the Senate rules fight has become so interwoven with the civil-rights controversy that it is impossible to consider one without realizing the palpable purpose of the other. The administration is jockeying for position. It blundered in getting the Senate all tied up with the fight on the rules when it knew all the time that the problem could not be solved by a bludgeoning process. The Republicans have needed the Democratic leadership because both Republicans and Democrats know that negro constituencies are measuring fidelity to the cause of civil rights legislation by merely observing the votes cast for or against changes in the Senate's rules.
All in all, the Senate rules controversy has prevented a comprehensive discussion of the whole civil-rights question. It would have been of far more educational value if the administration had made no effort to change the rules but had fought out the civil-rights question on its merits in open debate. The processes of public opinion would have been stimulated and the country would have had by this time a clearer idea of the position of both proponents and opponents of the President's recommendations. Some of these points have been the subject of compromise in the last few weeks had there been no tampering with the rules of the historic Parliamentary code which the Senate has followed from the beginning of the republic.

AS PEGLER SEES IT
By WESTBROOK PEGLER
There is a sweet example for other employers in the conduct of Cardinal Spellman in his dispute with the gravediggers of Calvary and Gate of Heaven cemeteries in New York. These are properties of the material and religious institution of which his eminence is the secular head as well as the spiritual leader. He was, therefore, the "employer" in the case which presently came to a crisis with 1,000 bodies accumulated in rude and temporary sepulture.
The men had demanded an increase in pay which the employer thought excessive, and although the gravediggers were Catholics, they struck and posted pickets at the gates. At last, Cardinal Spellman called on 100 young seminarians to dig graves and break strike and he himself, in person, crossed the picket line to encourage his volunteer sextons and console the bereft.
The cardinal's pursuers—clerics to be sure, but business men of large affairs as well—had refused to meet the raise, a common response of employers in such cases. But his eminence also accused the parent union, which embraced Local 133 of the Cemetery Workers, of Communist "domination," and refused to have truck with his misled children until they should elect or otherwise acquire new "bargaining agents."
Now this has been the wan desire of many a man and firm in private commerce who found Communists or fellow-travelers across the council-table, usually grim and hateful strangers to the boss and to most of the help as well. Under C.I.O. unionism it has been the practice from the bloody days of 1937 to import the most implacable and quarrelsome negotiators, fellows unknown to the workers in the shop or to anyone else in town except, perhaps, the resident agent of the F.B.I., to heckle, harass and threaten the management.
The employers, however, were deterred from calling them Communists or even party-liners by several considerations. If they did, they might be sued enormously for slander or libel, a common method of intimidation which not only costs the boss to great expense for lawyers but complicates the issues. In the days when Nathan Witt, of Harvard law, of course, and a Frankfurter plant, of course, was running the Labor Relations Board, it was most imprudent of an employer to crack wise against Communists, as you may well understand since Witt's recent refusal to say on oath whether or not he ever was a member of the party. The annual World Day of Prayer held in the Methodist Church Friday afternoon was attended by nearly 75 women. Mrs. Oscar Jelsma presided for the opening and Mrs. Stanley Jones had the closing section of the program. Taking the lead in the responsive readings were Mrs. Jelsma, Mrs. Jacob Schuhle, Mrs. George Allhusen, Clintondale; Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Frank Butler,

Mrs. Philip Wilklow, Mrs. Andrew W. Lent, Legard Bail was at the organ with the young people's choir of that church leading the singing and rendered an anthem directed by Mrs. Harry Thorne. A group of young people from the Presbyterian Church took part in a roundtable discussion as they represented the various parts of the world.

The observance of the golden anniversary of Chapter A.P.E.O. took place at the home of the president, Mrs. Harold A. Lent, Thursday when 58 members and guests were entertained. The house and small tables, around which lunch was served, were decorated with the Sisterhood's colors, yellow and white. Flowers and place cards, the latter the work of Mrs. Perry Wilson, added color to a perfect day.

During the dessert broadcast over WKIP, Poughkeepsie, was heard. The broadcasters, Mrs. Charles Patrick, the former Miss June Schantz, whose grandmother, Mrs. Philip Schantz, was a charter member and president, and whose mother, Mrs. Cluett Schantz, had also served as president, with Mrs. Andrew W. Lent, told a bit of the local history and activities of the chapter, also its beginnings. The organization was effected at Iowa Wesleyan College, Mt. Pleasant, Ia., January 21, 1869. Seven students wanting to keep their college friendship though separated at the close of school life made up the first chapter. The chapter, A, the first formed east of the Mississippi, was brought to Highland by Mrs. Herbert J. Pratt, who had joined during a visit to her early home in Hueston, Ia. The local chapter was formed March 8, 1899, at the home of Miss Laura Tillson with Mrs. Pratt, Mrs. Schantz, Miss Mary C. Elmore, Mrs. John C. Feeter, Mrs. Byron Lane, Mrs. Abram Wilklow, Mrs. Charles E. Brown and Miss Tillson. The first officers were Mrs. Pratt, president; Mrs. Feeter, vice-president; Miss Tillson, secretary; Mrs. Schantz, treasurer; Mrs. Browne, chaplain, and Mrs. Wilklow, guard. The objects and aims of the Sisterhood have been cultural, developing a closer loyalty and understanding, and supporting local as well as national benefits. One of the large projects is that of Cotty College, Nevada, Mo. The educational fund, whereby loans are made to young women to further their education. During the war years the Sisterhood was generous in contributions toward the purchase of mobile units. Locally, the chapter has adopted and supported an orphan in India; a Japanese orphan was cared for for six years; studies in a Chautauqua course and the Bayview magazine were used. In recent years yearbooks carry subjects, leaders and hostesses have been assigned. There are chapters in nearly every state in the Union, District of Columbia and British Columbia. New York state has 31 chapters, with a state convention meeting in Buffalo in May. The supreme convention will meet in Chicago this fall when the president of Chapter A, Mrs. Lent, will go as delegate. At the close of the luncheon Tuesday Mrs. Louis E. Smith read the messages of greeting from supreme officers, state officers unable to be present, as well as members of Chapter A, who were not able to attend. Mrs. W. H. Maynard announced the musical numbers with Mrs. J. C. Wygant using many of the vocal and instrumental numbers popular 50 years ago; vocal duets, Mrs. Theodore Nowicki, Mrs. Patrick in three numbers, the closing one, "Mary," is tribute to the founder, Mrs. Pratt; Mrs. James Scott rendered two instrumental numbers by Debussy and Mendelssohn; Mrs. Jerome Hunt, in closing, read a poem written many years ago by Mrs. Alfred Hopper. This had a verse allotted to each of the first officers. A three-tiered birthday cake made by Mrs. Leah Dunlop was surrounded by yellow mimosas and 49 candles. The 50th was atop the cake. This was cut by the one charter member, Mrs. Laura Tillson Vail, who was presented with a corsage. During the years the chapter has had 19 presidents, has lost 35 members by death, several to other chapters and at present has a membership of 63. Guests attending were State President Mrs. Eleanor B. Bell, X. Mrs. Ruth Rogers, X. Garden City; Mrs. Loretta Mueller, C. past state president, Mrs. Grace Holcomb, C. New York; Mrs. Jessie Wren, F. New York; Mrs. Lorna Laune, I. Ithaca; Mrs. W. Jack Weaver, AB, Albany; former active members, Mrs. Willard Riverburgh, Poughkeepsie; Mrs. Edward C. Quimby, Marlborough; Miss Eliza Tves Raymond, Mrs. LeGrand Haviland, Mrs. A. Jerome Pratt, Mrs. Philip Wilklow. A guest book was the gift of Mrs. Annabel Norvil, Schenectady.

Macaroni and Cheese Souffle

Souffle of macaroni and cheese—a new idea.

By GAYNOR MADDON
NEA Staff Writer

Here's an old favorite with a new look—macaroni and cheese souffle.

Macaroni and Cheese Souffle

(6 servings)

One cup uncooked macaroni, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 cups boiling water, 1½ cups soft bread crumbs, 1½ cups milk, 3 eggs, 1½ cups grated cheese (about 4 ounces), 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ cup diced pimiento, 1/3 cup chopped almonds, few sprigs parsley, 5 small pieces pimiento.

Add macaroni and one teaspoon salt to the boiling water and cook for about 20 minutes or until macaroni is done. Drain macaroni. Soak bread crumbs in milk while macaroni is cooking. Separate eggs. Mix together beaten egg yolks, cooked macaroni, bread crumbs soaked in milk, grated cheese, one teaspoon salt, diced pimiento and almonds. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold beaten egg whites into macaroni mixture. Pour mixture into a well-greased two-quart heat-resistant glass open baking dish. Bake in moderate oven (325 degrees F.) for one hour. Garnish for serving with parsley and pieces of pimiento.

Cheese and tomato sauce can be made into a delicious souffle also! For a good meatless meal.

try this tomato-cheese souffle, parsleyed potatoes, green peas, mixed green salad, apple Betty, light cream, coffee, milk.

Health for All

THE TB EX-PATIENT AT HOME.

The former tuberculous patient will tell you that the day he received his medical discharge from the sanatorium was one of the happiest of his life. Perhaps he would miss some of his fellow patients at the san, but his discharge meant that he had successfully fought a battle with a serious illness and could safely return home to those he loved.

Once home, the wise ex-patient will do all he can to hold on to his regained health by carefully following the advice given him at the sanatorium on precautions he should take to avoid future breakdowns. His family can help him observe the simple rules suggested before he left the san by making it easy for him to get his required rest and nourishing meals at regular times, to refrain from too strenuous exercise and by encouraging him to report to his doctor for regular physical checkups.

The family can also help the former patient with the emotional adjustments which he must face in returning to a way of life from which he may have been separated for months.

Members of the family should leave no doubt in the former patient's mind that he is welcome home—in every respect. This means more than just saying they are glad to have him back. It means proving, by their attitude and actions, that he has been missed and that he has an important place in the family circle.

The family of a patient with a medical discharge from a tuberculosis sanatorium should understand, too, that they are not running a risk of catching TB by having a person with arrested disease back in their midst. The medical director of the sanatorium would not give his permission for the patient to return home and to community life if there were any real danger that others would get tuberculosis from him.

It may take the former patient a little time to readjust to family and community life. The readjustment period will be shortened, however, if the family takes a sincere interest in the former patient's problems and tries to help him in their solution.

School Children Aid Jr. Red Cross

Children in 30 Ulster county schools are aiding the Junior Red Cross in its program of bringing help and cheer to children in Europe's devastated countries. This year 4,769 boys and girls in Kingston and Ulster county are enrolled as members of this junior branch of the American Red Cross.

Special attention is drawn to the children's part of the program in a window display this week at Donnarumma and Augustine, Inc., Insurance office at 251 Fair street. This display is one of a number planned in connection with the 1949 annual fund campaign of the Red Cross which is now in progress.

Displayed in the window are several gift boxes such as those which are sent to Europe by the thousands. The boxes, packed by the children with articles provided by the children, contain such items as soap, tooth brushes, socks, pencils and other school supplies and small games.

Other activities of the Junior Red Cross in this county include the making and distributing of favors at hospitals and the making of albums containing pictures and information about the United States to be sent to children in other lands.

The children in the Junior Red Cross range in age from grammar school pupils to high school seniors. There are units at Kingston High School, the Myron J. Michael School and many elementary schools in the county, each unit under the direction of an adult chairman.

Junior Red Cross members are given the opportunity of learning of the safety programs of the American Red Cross and are given preparation in emergency work so that they are ready in time of disaster to work with regular adult disaster units, doing such things as carrying messages, making and distributing sandwiches.

New Meteorite Sought

Moscow is waiting word from the scientific expedition sent to find the latest enormous meteorite, or "shooting star," which fell in Kamchatka, the bleak peninsula in the east of Siberia. This is the third great meteorite to fall in Siberia in this century. Last year, one of the biggest ever known fell in a remote mountainous wilderness north of Vladivostok. Peasants saw a huge fireball hurtling through the air on a sunny morning, its red tail leaving a broad smoke trail. Before it reached the ground the cosmic missile exploded with a roar heard 50 miles away.

Modern Ports Planned

Congestion at Chilean ports has led the Commission of Maritime Transport to decide upon expenditure of over $9,000,000 in mechanization of the nation's port facilities. The project includes dredging of several harbors. At the Baron mole in Valparaiso and at San Antonio, modern plants will be installed for the handling of coal and ores.

Truman May Delay Wallgren Action

Washington, March 16 (AP)—President Truman faces the alternative of withdrawing the nomination of Mon C. Wallgren or picking a Senate fight that may be hard to win.

Administration lieutenants said Mr. Truman probably will delay a decision until his return from a key West, Fla., vacation. The Senate Armed Services Committee yesterday postponed Wallgren's appointment to head the National Security Resources Board.

Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) called the committee together today to hear testimony on the President's appointment of Louis A. Johnson to replace James V. Forrestal as secretary of defense.

Committee—and eventually Senate—approval of Johnson seemed sure.

Six Republicans and Senator Byrd (D-Va.) voted to put Wallgren's nomination on ice, through adoption of a motion to table.

That procedure lays the nomination on the committee's table where it could be called up again at any time a majority of the 13 members wants to take that action.

Wallgren said in a statement that the committee had only "suspended action, for the time being." The committee unanimously adopted a resolution yesterday praising Wallgren's patriotism and integrity.

Opponents had questioned his experience and qualifications to head a board that in wartime would take over the authority given in the last conflict to a half dozen civilian agencies.

State Income Tax to Be 50 Per Cent Higher Than '48

Albany, N. Y., March 16 (AP)—Governor Dewey's compromise budget heading toward legislative approval today, provides for a 50 per cent higher income tax this year than last year.

Tax payments are due April 15. Dewey originally asked for collection at the full 100 per cent legal rate, which would have been a 66 2/3 per cent boost over last year when taxes were collected at 60 per cent of the allowable maximum.

The compromise reached yesterday between the administration legislative leaders and insurgent Republican Senators calls for a 90 per cent collection rate.

Ten per cent of the full 100 per cent rate must be earmarked to pay the state's soldier bonus.

The State Department of Taxation and Finance prepared this table of representative tax liabilities based on a 90 per cent collection rate:

Gross Income	Single No Dependents	Married No Dependents	Married One Dependent	Married Two Dependents
$2,500	$24.75	None	None	None
3,000	36.90	3.60	None	None
3,500	49.05	11.70	3.60	None
4,000	61.20	20.70	12.60	$5.40
5,000	90.00	45.00	34.20	23.40
10,000	315.00	234.00	216.00	198.00

The optional flat deduction of 10 per cent up to $500 is assumed in each case.

Budget to Pass

head of the Erie rebels, said the settlement was a "step in the right direction."

The minority legislative leaders, Senator Elmer F. Quinn and Assemblyman Irwin Steingut, claimed the compromise was a "distinct triumph for the Democratic party."

The Democratic leaders said they would seek to amend the budget by asking, in addition to other things, an increase of $60,000,000 in state aid for education.

In 1928, the voters approved a $300,000,000 bond issue for grade crossing elimination projects. Only $165,000,000 worth of these bonds have been issued, leaving $135,000,000 available to be issued.

It is from this balance that bonds could be issued to raise the $42,900,000 to replace an equal amount presently in the budget for grade crossing projects, which is to be diverted to other uses.

what I suffered. And I will always go on suffering. It is the cross I must bear."

Answering police reports that the boy couldn't distinguish the things common to every child—even an orange—because he had never seen them before, Mrs. Sullivan said:

"Every day he had fruit and the best of food we could afford. He liked to eat and I let him lack for nothing."

"It was only that he couldn't go out among the neighbors, I felt lest the story that his father wasn't my husband might get around. God knows, I meant no harm."

She said the youngster liked to help her around the house, that he was an intense radio fan, and that his freedom was unhampered as long as he stayed in doors.

The story of the child's life unfolded quickly after he was found playing in the street alone—his feet bare and tattered girl's clothing hanging from his weakened body.

Pleas to Neglect. The mother pleaded guilty in district court to a charge of neglect. She told of the boy's conception and birth during a separation from her husband.

The child's father died several years later. It was then that Mrs. Sullivan determined, investigator reported, to hide the boy from the world.

Meanwhile, Gerald transformed from a long-haired, ragged urchin was happy in a temporary home. Scores of motherly arms reached out across the nation in hopes of adopting him, but authorities said it will be some time before his future is determined.

or was elected president and general manager.

The period of Acker's presidency has been one of rapid expansion for Central Hudson. Its capitalization has grown from about $37,000,000 in 1932 to about $58,000,000 in 1948, an increase of approximately $21,000,000. During the same period the number of the company's electric customers has increased from 65,000 to 93,000 and the annual output of electricity has increased from 150,000,000 kilowatt hours to 577,000,000 kilowatt hours. The number of gas customers has increased from 29,000 to 36,000, and the amount of gas manufactured annually has increased from 1,143,000 thousand cubic feet to 2,024,000 thousand cubic feet.

Acker has given considerable attention to various civic and educational activities in his community, in many of which he is still actively identified. He has been a director and president of the Poughkeepsie Community Chest; he is a past trustee and a past president of the Vassar Brothers Hospital, Poughkeepsie; past president of the Poughkeepsie Elementary Day School; and he has also been a member of the Rotary Club in Kingston and Poughkeepsie.

Acker was married in 1923 to Marie Geraldine Desmond Nelson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Nelson, New York city and Poughkeepsie. They have two sons, Ernest R., Jr., born in 1924 and Fitzgerald Desmond, born in 1927. The family home is "Spring Gable," Poughkeepsie.

Polish Sailors Give Up: Against Returning Home. Newark, N. J., March 16 (AP)—Forty sailors from Soviet-dominated Poland, most of whom have jumped ship in New York and New Jersey ports, have surrendered to immigration authorities here.

The authorities said yesterday they want to establish why the seamen are seeking refuge in this country instead of returning to their homeland. They said some of the sailors had been signed off their ships legitimately.

The sailors appeared at the federal immigration offices in the custody of Edward Kozmor, of the Jersey City Welfare Department. Kozmor also is president of the Polish American Congress of Hudson county.

The men, authorities said, have been living with Polish-American families in various northern New Jersey municipalities since they left their ships.

John P. Munch and Gilbert Hall, immigration agents here, said they started their investigation after learning the number of deserters from Polish ships had increased greatly in recent weeks.

Munch and Hall communicated with a religious representative of the New York Polish Immigration Service. They arranged that if the seamen surrendered they would be paroled in the custody of the organization and placed with reputable Polish-American families in the metropolitan area.

All information concerning enlistments may be procured from Chief Stroble on Wednesdays and Thursdays at Room 209, Central Post Office. Applicants for enlistment must bring birth certificates.

Masonic Campaign Expected to Top 1949 $731,000 Goal

CLARENCE GLASS

New York, March 16—The Masonic Brotherhood Fund Campaign is approaching the quarter million mark and it is expected it will equal if not surpass last year's fund of $731,000. It was stated today by Clarence Glass, vice-president of Anaconda Copper Co., and chairman of the campaign for the second year.

The statement followed a meeting at the Masonic Temple here, with the 14 area chairmen from all over the state, who have been working with the 64 district deputy grand masters upstate and the 19 district deputies of the metropolitan area. The campaign will close on May 3, when the annual communication of the Grand Lodge of New York state will hear the final report.

"Every one of the 1,038 lodges in the state has been most enthusiastic in this drive," Glass said, "and there are many special events scheduled to bring in additional contributions to the fund in almost every city of any size. My committee members are a fine, hard-working group, but it is the individual lodge committee members who have put this fund across. They have given so tirelessly of their time and effort that they have been a constant inspiration to us here at Grand Lodge."

Glass also stated that the rheumatic fever research program, for which $200,000 was set aside from last year's fund, will be actively supported in the coming year as well. "The money is used to underwrite research programs on this disease in seven medical colleges and institutions throughout the state. The fund will also be used to support Masonic Benevolences, which assists masons in their own communities, and for modernization of the Masonic Home at Utica."

"Naturally, we will intensify our efforts in the coming seven weeks," Glass declared, "and we will ask weekly reports from every area. I am hopeful that those reports will show a surprising advance even over the amount we expect."

Anglo Sloop Sinks
Miami, Fla., March 16 (AP)—The British sloop Alliance sank about 25 miles southwest of Puerto Rico last night but all six men aboard were rescued, the coast guard reported today. The men were removed from the distressed vessel by the Pocono, a U. S. Navy cutter, and later were transferred to the coast guard cutter Pandora. The Alliance, about 60 feet long, sank but remained afloat, and the Pandora is standing by. No other details were available; the coast guard said.

As Pegler Sees It

chief investigator of the Committee on Un-American Activities, informed me that the committee would have taken vigorous action under appropriate statutes had this Happy Hot Dog elected to deny that he ever was.

The boss also understood that if he spoke unkindly of Communists he would be charged with "intimidating" his employees by putting in their minds the "doubting thought" that they were following disloyal leaders. And, finally, but by no means least, the boss could expect to be carried and grinded by hot-eyed agents of Henry Morgenthau's income tax division for three years back.

So, altogether, Cardinal Spellman, claimed a privilege which many another citizen has been denied when he not only accused his workers' union of Communist "domination" but, finally, said he wouldn't resume negotiations until they had "disaffiliated" and made a new connection.

In today's state of affairs, this was a shocking innovation. Employers simply are not allowed to reject the "bargaining agents" who claim to represent their help and I beg the liberty of congratulating his eminence on having got away with something.

This may be a landmark along a new "trend" in unionism, particularly in the C.I.O., which has got religion good and is now running the Reds ragged in joyous contempt of its old handbooks for ambitious rioters, leg-breakers and windshield busters.

These gravediggers belonged to a parent C.I.O. union called the Food, Tobacco and Agricultural Workers. This is a "red" union, as the professional unioners would say, a riff-raff union. It was organized to accommodate odds and ends of crafts. John L. Lewis formed one in his Mine Workers, entitled District 50, which embraced everything from pinboys in bowling to laymen in gravestones.

But it is hoped that these gravediggers were allotted to the Food, Tobacco and Agricultural Workers by Philip Murray, the president of the C. O., who is now a secular but somewhat pretentious natural mahatma or pandit of the confused cult of religious unioners and as fierce in opposition to the Muscovites as he once was fervent to their opponents. Murray put these gravediggers into this union and now, in flagrant violation of the dearest and noisiest tenets of unionism, Murray's spiritual leader makes them repudiate this "bargaining agent" and pick another.

Under unionism with its sordid values and squalid loyalties, this is a heinous happening from the standpoint of the C.I.O. It is as evil, indeed, as some mass apostasy of a schismatic bunch from some religious sect. The building service outfit is the old Capone racket now ostensibly reformed, shriven and "approved" by eminent divines.

His Eminence's right to cross the picket line has caused some discussion. All of it comes from an oblique point of view as though his religious office made a special difference. This is a misunderstanding which I am glad to dispel.

Cardinal Spellman had a legal and moral right to cross that picket line as a layman. His ecclesiastical character need not be invoked. Any citizen has a right to cross any picket line and to accept lawful employment at any job which has been vacated by any other person, whether by death, dismissal, resignation or strike. The picket has a right to inform him that the employees are on strike and state his version of the issues, but that is all. (Copyright, 1949, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Roosevelt Will Seek Bloom's Congress Seat

New York, March 16 (AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., 35-year-old lawyer son of the late President, is a candidate for Congress.

Roosevelt said yesterday he will seek election to the seat in the 20th Congressional District on Manhattan's West Side, made vacant last week by the death of Rep. Sol Bloom.

Roosevelt said he was asked to be a candidate by Robert B. Blaikie, a Tammany Hall district leader who will have a powerful voice in the Democratic organization's choice of its candidate.

Backing of the Liberal Party for Roosevelt's candidacy has been indicated by a party leader. Bloom, a Democrat and chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, represented the district for 26 years.

No date has been set for a special election to fill the vacancy. The Republican leaders have not picked a candidate yet.

Must Keep Dignity.

The United States flag, according to the Library of Congress, may be flown almost anywhere, 24 hours a day as long as it is for a patriotic purpose and the flag does not lose dignity.

Jack Norton of Movie Fame at Broadway Theatre

Jack Norton, whose face is instantly recognizable to millions of moviegoers as the confused, middle-aged comic drunk with the meticulously waxed mustache who is inevitably parked at the bar, will appear in person at the Broadway Theatre on Friday and Saturday, March 18 and 19.

While it is doubtful that a fraction of his movie fans know his name, Norton's comedy antics have delighted film audiences in scores of movies, including such hits as "Sweet Music," "Captain Turbout Annie," "Linda Be Good," with Van Johnson in "Week-end at the Waldorf," Harold Lloyd in "The Sin of Harold Diddlebock." He has played the cafe society drunk in more pictures than he can count, and will portray that type of bemused character on the stage.

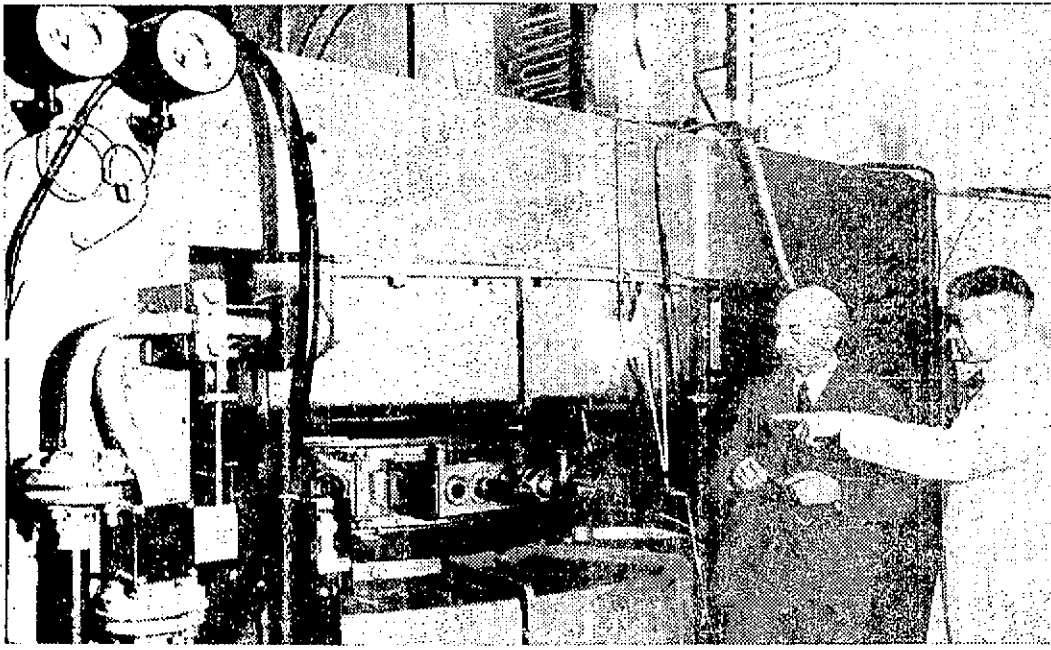

Also from Hollywood on the same bill will be the "Radio Rascals," noted song trio who have made several dozen musical snorts for Warner Brothers, and in addition to years of radio work, have also done extensive recording.

One matinee and two evening performances will be presented on Friday and Saturday in addition to the screen attraction. Friday night at 7 o'clock, immediately preceding the first evening show, the third in the series of eliminations for the "Mr. Song of 1949" contest will be held, with another four contestants trying for the $1,375 worth of prizes. The contest will be broadcast from the stage.

On the novelty side of the program, Ade Duval and Company will present a magic act entitled "Mystifying Moments." Highlight is Duval's routine with an alarm clock, which he makes disappear, but which rings constantly to interrupt his act. Acrobatics will be handled by the Redingtons, who perform on the trampoline. At each performance they will invite someone from the audience to join them on the bouncing canvas.

Fifth net will be Shorty Howell, holding tables and chairs in his mouth while dancing.

Germany's Atom Smasher at 'Peace' Work

Dr. Walter Bothe, left, Germany's senior nuclear physicist, explains Heidelberg University's 12-million-volt cyclotron to a cancer specialist. The atom-smashing machine, only one in Germany to survive the war, is being used for "peaceful research" with permission of the U. S. Allied scientists say it would take Germany at least 100,000 years to produce a single atom bomb with the cyclotron, which has about 1/20th the volt capacity of American machines.

Britain and Medicine

London, March 16 (AP)—The British refer to the start of their sweeping experiment in socialized medicine as "the appointed day."

That was July 5, 1948. What has happened since? How is the program working?

The anticipated rush of patients developed. Waiting rooms were crowded. Hospitals were even more pressed for beds. Demands for free glasses, free dentures, free hearing aids and even free wigs swamped medical men—and the manufacturers.

For the patient the good day was at hand. The Ministry of Health underestimated the demand by tens of millions of dollars.

Much of the scramble, a health ministry spokesman said, is a hang over from the pre-July 5 days—a lack of facilities which still will take years to overcome and an accumulation of medical needs which many people couldn't afford before.

After July 5 every man, woman and child from king to lowly charwoman had the right to ask a doctor for free treatment and free medicine—provided the doctor had contracted to work in the program. Anyone who insisted on private care had to pay for his medicines.

When a patient went to the doctor for the first time, he took a little white card from the post-office. He was entered on the doctor's list as a public patient.

The card was sent to the local health executive council. There are 138 of these bodies throughout the country. One part of the card goes into the doctor's file for accounting purposes. The other portion goes into the patient's file and formed part of his "case history." In London, he became one of 3,049,000 registrars.

The Health Ministry says these lists are inflated at the moment. Many patients registered with more than one doctor. Many already enrolled under the old national health insurance scheme re-registered. The lists are being weeded out.

Once registered, the patient just calls on the doctor whenever he feels he needs medical attention.

He doesn't have to worry how high the doctor's bill will be. The doctor gets his 18 shillings annually for each patient on his list, no matter how often the patient calls.

The state does the bookkeeping. The doctor doesn't have to worry about bad risks. But his work—both professional and clerical—has zoomed.

Percentage of Abuse
There undoubtedly is a percentage of abuse because the scheme is free.

"They are out to get as many tonics, drugs and baby foods as they can," says a medical association spokesman. "That puts an added burden on the doctor and undoubtedly detracts from his professional time."

The British Medical Journal published a classic letter from a doctor which illustrates the point. "Dear Dr. X," the letter read. "Many thanks for sending permit to buy vacuum flask. I should be grateful if you will kindly send me permits as below: (1) Surgical shoes. (2) Bi-focus glasses (my reading glasses were stolen from a rest room). (3) Artificial teeth. "When not too busy, perhaps you would call in, if further explanation is necessary. So sorry to trouble you."

Freak Rush Exaggerated
The ministry feels the present rush is exaggerated. "Knowing that the scheme was coming into operation, many patients delayed going to the doctors and dentists until they could get free care," a spokesman says.

"Besides, many patients never bothered to go to a doctor with complaints they thought trivial. Now that they can get expert medical attention free, they're bound to make more visits to the doctor."

As the scheme settles down and case histories build up in the files, each new application for special appliances, or, for example, spectacles will be carefully examined. If they are for replacements due to carelessness the patient will pay.

That's a Cloudburst
While it is impossible to draw a line between a heavy rainfall and a cloudburst, the term cloudburst is not usually used unless six or more inches of rain falls at a rate of 10 or more inches per hour.

Hiss' Suit Postponed

Baltimore, March 16 (AP)—Trial of Alger Hiss' $75,000 slushy and libel suit against Whitaker Chambers was put off indefinitely yesterday in Federal Court, Counsel for Hiss, former State Department official, appeared in court for the routine setting of trials to request the civil case not be scheduled. A similar deferment was granted about a month ago. In the suit, Hiss alleged that Chambers, an admitted one-time Communist, falsely accused him (Hiss) of being a Communist.

Chickens to Be Plentiful

Washington, March 16 (AP)—There ought to be a lot of chicken to eat this spring and summer. The Agriculture Department reported today that commercial hatchery production of baby chicks in February was the largest on record. The output for the January-February period is 50 per cent above a year ago. Furthermore, eggs in incubators March 1 were 27 per cent larger than a year ago, and bookings for delivery in April were 33 per cent larger than a year ago.

The National Grange is squarely on record in favor of increased wages for teachers in rural schools, up to a reasonable living scale.

National Jewish Music Month to Be Observed At Ahavath Israel Synagogue Sunday Evening

National Jewish Music Month, annually observed throughout the United States under the auspices of the National Jewish Welfare Board, will be observed in Kingston Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in Ahavath Israel Synagogue, Wurts and Springs streets. As in previous years, this third annual concert of Jewish music, sponsored by Ahavath Israel Sisterhood, will feature both instrumental and vocal music of Jewish content and by Jewish composers.

The program will be highlighted by the performance of a new cantata, "Song of Zion," by Heinrich Schallt, musical director at Temple Emanuel, Providence, R. I. Also featured will be a repeat performance of Eisenstein's cantata, "What Is Torah?", which two years ago was received with great interest. Other numbers include modern and old-time Jewish folksongs sung by Mrs. Leon Greenberg; violin solos by Julius Teller accompanied at the piano by Thomas W. Crosby. The prelude and recessional will be played by Mr. Crosby.

Those participating in the cantata are the Meses. Max C. Tervick, James Flemming, Benjamin Gottlieb, Edward Gerstenzang, Murray Greene, Charlotte Greenwald, Oscar Nussbaum, Carl Spiegel, Harry Spiegel, Jules Stein, Rebecca Wachtel, William Zwicker. Ulster Garden Club

Studies Conservation

Ulster Garden Club, members were hostesses Tuesday afternoon at the First Baptist Church Assembly Hall for a program on conservation. Guests included members of the Saugerties Garden Club and Little Garden Club of Kingston.

Several films described the need for careful use and planning of forest and farm lands. Seven main points or links which must be preserved in the chain of life were named as raw materials, sun's energy, chlorophyll in the plants, top soil, water, forests and conservation.

The pictures vividly showed the destruction through fires, soil erosion, floods and dust storms caused by improper cutting of timber and cultivation of land. Destructive cutting of trees provided ready tinder for forest fires and loss of top soil through erosion by heavy rains. Farming without providing proper fertilizer to revitalize the soil resulted in arid lands.

In contrast an experiment in cutting only ripe trees, clearing unwanted timber, providing fire fighting equipment and reforestation plans, was shown. This system will endeavor to provide a constant source of lumber as well as preserve the soil.

The program was arranged by Mrs. Howard A. Lewis and her committee on conservation. Mrs. Frances H. Leggett, Stone Ridge; Mrs. William Boyd, Woodstock; Mrs. Clement E. Chase, Ashokan; Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker, this city.

Mrs. C. V. D. Hutton, president of Ulster Garden Club, welcomed the guests. Announcement was made of the illustrated lecture on Cuba, the Island of Sugar, to be sponsored by Little Garden Club, April 2, at First Baptist Church.

Also during a short meeting announcement was made of Ulster Garden Club members planning to attend the luncheon at the Plaza Hotel, New York, March 23, sponsored by the Garden Club of America, of which the Ulster Garden Club is a member. Those who will attend include Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. Roger H. Loughran, Mrs. Hutton, Mrs. Richard Thibault, Mrs. Charles Arnold, Mrs. John Matthews and Mrs. William A. Warren. Members of the club will also act as hostesses at the Garden Club of America exhibit at the flower show in New York.

Following the program tea was served. The tea table was arranged with silver service, green tapers and a huge bouquet of white stock carnations. Mrs. Thibault and Mrs. Hutton poured. Hostesses for the afternoon were the Meses. John D. Schoonmaker, Jr., Herbert Johnson, Herbert L. Shultz of this city and Mrs. Terry Staples of Saugerties.

The next meeting of the club will be April 19 at the home of Mrs. Hutton.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

GRANDPARENTS' PREFERENCE

An occasion when conventional rules are best set aside is illustrated in the following letter: "When I was two years old, I was picked up and sent to live with my grandparents. My own parents were not getting on well together and I never went back to live with them. My grandparents educated me, clothed me, and were good to me. Now comes the announcement of my engagement and then my wedding announcements. Whose names should appear on the announcements? My parents, lately reconciled, are now living in this same town, which rather complicates the problem.

In answer to this, your grandparents have certainly earned the right to make the announcement of both. To have them do so, under circumstances which must be known to everyone, could not possibly bring criticism upon themselves or upon your parents.

Children At Funeral?
Dear Mrs. Post: Maybe this isn't etiquette, but I believe you can help me. When my grandmother was buried lately I did not take my young sons, seven and eight, to her funeral. Some of the relatives criticized me, because she had been so fond of the children. Was I wrong?

Answer: This question is one which I really feel is not for any other person than you to answer because it would depend entirely upon effect you think the experience would have upon your children. It does seem to me, however, that the greater their affection for her, the more trying the ordeal would have been to them.

Avoiding St. and 3rd
Dear Mrs. Post: Please tell us the proper suffix to add to a boy's name in these two cases: John Henry Jones, Jr. and Edward Lee Jones. Edward had a son and named him John Henry, 3rd. Now John Jr. has a son and would like to name him John Henry. What suffix should be used?

Answer: Both are unavoidably "3rd." Because of this, customarily the second "John" is given another middle name so that "3rd" can be eliminated.

Mrs. Post's letter, E-5, gives a list of personal clothes as well as a list of linen for the hope chest. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Banker Makes Plea Of Guilty in Case About $28,625.73

Goshen, March 16 — Pierre L. Myers, 39, former teller in Newburgh Savings Bank has pleaded guilty to the full 67-count indictment returned by the February grand jury, charging him with misappropriation of bank funds totaling $28,625.73.

The plea was entered Monday by Myers' attorney, John H. Flanagan, before Special Orange County Judge W. Newcomb Calyer, who announced that sentencing would be deferred pending a report of Probation Officer John Schoonmaker. Bail of $20,000 was continued and Myers was permitted to return to his home on Postertown road.

Myers was originally arraigned before Judge Raphael A. Egan on March 2, charged with 18 counts of first degree grand larceny, two counts of grand larceny second degree, two for petit larceny and 42 counts involving forgery second degree in allegedly altering bank records.

Judge Egan granted an adjournment until today to give Attorney Flanagan time to prepare any motions he may have planned and to inspect the 38-page indictment on which Myers was held.

The indictment lists 23 misappropriations of bank funds during the period between Feb. 24, 1944 and Feb. 2, 1949. The amounts involved range from $75 to $2,500.

Myers, who pleaded innocent before Judge Egan on March 2, was rearraigned before Judge Calyer today, because Judge Egan has been confined to his home several days suffering from a cold.

District Attorney Clare J. Hoyt asked Judge Calyer for permission to amend the lengthy indictment to correct typographical errors made in the typing of the papers. The request was granted.

Overseas Plane Makes Emergency Landing

London, March 16 (AP) — An American Overseas Airline plane bound for New York with 43 passengers made a safe emergency landing without brakes here last night.

The passengers slipped cocktails and ate a hot dinner while the plane circled for nearly four hours to lighten its fuel load.

After landing they promptly shifted to another plane and continued the trip.

The big Constellation, the Flagship Swivel, landed four hours and 10 minutes after taking off from Shannon, Eire.

Pilot Walter Hostettler of Manhasset, N. Y., said the landing gear retracted only partially after the takeoff. He said he feared to risk a trans-Atlantic crossing with the fuel-consuming added air drag of the partly lowered wheels.

He finally got the gear into landing position, but the hydraulic pressure needed to operate the brakes failed.

Rain had made the Shannon runways slippery, so he chose to see down at Filton, where the runways are longer.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

Just received from J. H. W. of Washington avenue the "Saturday Globe" of Utica, dated Saturday, February 13, 1904. It covers the burning of Baltimore, Md., in colored sketches and many photographs. Harry L. Edson of the Recreation Department says he remembers that fire well when insurance companies were hard hit. This fire took in some 80 city blocks, and some 2,500 buildings in the heart of Baltimore. Fire raged some 28 hours, but luckily only two persons perished and only 15 injured. Some 50,000 persons were thrown out of work. The fire covered approximately 75 acres and run into 125 million dollars damage. It is said, it was exceeded only by the Chicago fire of 1871. Many buildings, otherwise known as fireproof, which were made of brick, iron and stone were burned to the ground. Cause of the fire was unknown. It started at 11 Sunday morning, February 6, in John E. Hurst's & Co. store. A 30 mile gale added to the fury which blew the fire around in the thickly populated area of business buildings. New York city sent some 10 companies and at one time 40 streams of water were playing on the blaze. Luckily the City Hall, Federal Building and Court House, pride of Baltimore, were left untouched. The "Saturday Globe" gives a vivid detailed description besides the many photographs which made Baltimore look like war-torn Europe. One shows the falling of the walls of the Hurst building which buried a fire engine and truck and injured several firemen.

Seemingly with the Day Boats not intending to make the Kingston Point trip, it was on Sunday evening, March 30, 1924, when also a fire of unknown origin destroyed the famous pavilion overlooking the Hudson. This structure, several hundred feet long, two stories high, made of Georgia pine (owned by the U. & D. railroad) went up in flames and took with it the huge electric sign reading "Kingston Point Park" which could clearly be seen by trains on the other side of the river and the steamers passing by. Will Kingston Point Park and its beach ever be revived?

Croc Disputes Road

A large crocodile lying on a flooded road near Sibson, South Africa, gave John Anderson, manager of several native trading stations, quite a scare. His car collided with the croc, which became wedged between the wheels. In its desperate struggle to escape, it almost overturned the car. Anderson drove it free, however, and sped on.

Costello's Denial Has No Effect on Governor Warren

Sacramento, Calif., March 16 (AP)—Frank Costello's denial in New York that he heads a nationwide slot machine racket leaves Gov. Earl Warren cold.

"My experience with rackets, and it goes back quite a few years (Warren previously was attorney general and before that a county prosecutor), is that the people in them admit nothing," he told a press conference yesterday.

Costello was named by Warren's state commission on organized crime as reputed head of slot machine interests doing an annual business of $2,000,000,000. Costello's attorney made public a letter which he said his client had written Warren denying any knowledge of the slot machine racket.

Saying he had not received the letter, Warren said "I am not a correspondent of Mr. Costello and if I did (receive a letter) I would never expect it to admit anything."

Warren Olney III, the crime commission's chief counsel, when advised Costello had said he was willing to come to California for a hearing, exclaimed: "Fine. There are a number of things we'd like to question him about, including 'Bugsy' Siegel."

Siegel was slain gangster style in Beverly Hills, Calif., in 1947 and the crime commission said he was a Costello associate.

Express Agency Is Now Facing New Difficulties

New York, March 16 (AP)—New difficulties today confront the Railway Express Agency whose operations have been shut down in a dispute with an A.F.L. union.

Picket lines were thrown around the agency's Manhattan business office yesterday, and the union said 500 of 800 office employees and others refused to cross.

An agency spokesman conceded that the picketing had kept a "number of employees" from checking in. He said only one of about 12 elevator operators had reported to work.

As a result, executives and employees entering the seven-story building at 235 East 42nd street had to use the stairways.

"We're out of business at the depots and terminals," an agency official said. "We're not running a motor truck in the area, and not accepting any business."

The company last week laid off 9,000 employees—nearly all of its freight handlers and drivers—following a work slowdown and stoppage stemming from a contract dispute.

It also clamped an embargo on all less-than-carload express shipments into or out of the metropolitan area, including northern New Jersey and suburban points.

Daniel J. Sullivan, chairman of the express division of the A.F.L. Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, expressed belief yesterday the company would yield to union demands soon.

"There's $2,000,000 worth of merchandise piled up on the company's property," he said. "It's a wonder the public isn't down their throats."

The union began picketing metropolitan terminals Monday, and is awaiting an A.F.L. national president on plans to picket Grand Central Terminal and Pennsylvania station.

The latter move, the union claims, might halt railroad operations of the two big passenger terminals.

The union accuses the agency of "stalling" in contract negotiations, going on in Chicago. The company denies the "stalling" charge. The union is seeking a 25-cent hike in the present hourly pay of $1.32 to $1.57, and a reduction of the work week from 44 to 40 hours.

Damage Suit Dropped

Atlanta, March 16 (AP)—A deaf mute has dropped her $50,000 damage suit against the man she said won her promise to wed after a feverish, wig-wag courtship. Miss Lelle B. Campos dropped her suit against Glenison B. Grizzard, also a deaf mute. Her attorney, James H. Dodson said the couple reached an agreement between themselves. He did not know what kind of settlement was made. Miss Campos charged in her suit that Grizzard wooed her with "feverish promises and proposals." Then after she agreed to marry him, Miss Campos continued, he laughed at her and refused to go through with the wedding.

State Will Pay $110,000 for Land At Highland Falls

Albany, N. Y., March 16 (AP)—Ladycliff College and the Missionary Sisters of the Third Order of St. Francis at Highland Falls will receive $110,000 for land appropriated by the state in 1945 for a highway.

This sum was awarded yesterday in a decision by the state Court of Claims in a suit brought by the college and the sisters. The land was taken in connection with construction of a road to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point.

The college had sued for $200,069, and the sisters for $300,000. Judge Emanuel Greenberg awarded the college $66,000 and the sisters, $44,000.

Truman's Program Is Threatened by Coalition Group

Washington, March 16 (AP)—A Republican-Dixie Democrat coalition poised a menacing knife to-day over much of President Truman's legislative program.

Out of 16 days of the most intense kind of political jockeying emerged a Senate working majority that—if it sticks together—may rip apart the President's proposals, junking some and vitally revising others.

And what was only a threat in the slow-moving Senate was a half-completed fact in the House.

There the administration salvaged its battered rent control bill only after a G.O.P.-Southern Democratic coalition had forced into it a "home rule" provision that would let local communities throw out ceilings when they choose.

With a rein on procedure that it can't match in the Senate, (a filibuster is not allowed in the House) the administration got a 15-month extension.

But that may dwindle under the hammer blows of a strange-bedfellows combination of Senate Republicans who say they are for the "civil rights" program and Dixie lawmakers who demonstrate they aren't.

These two groups got together last night on a compromise of the long battle over an attempt to change the Senate's rules so that Southerners can't filibuster effectively any more.

They came up with 52 pledged votes for a compromise administration leaders didn't like.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, said the proposal would loosen the Senate's rules on talk and "perpetuate filibusters." He added that it "closes the door on civil rights legislation."

He didn't say so, but the coalition also might close the door against any major changes in the Taft-Hartley Act—if G.O.P. members and Dixie Democrats stick together.

The Southern Democrats were obviously happy about the compromise that ended their 15-day filibuster.

They had a chance to strike back at the administration which is threatening them—and will continue to threaten them—with efforts to enact anti-lynching, anti-poll tax and anti-job discrimination bills.

Sees Mine Stoppage Ending as Slated

Pittsburgh, March 16 (AP)—A district leader of the United Mine Workers said today he sees no reason why the coal mine work stoppage won't end as scheduled on March 28.

Some operators have expressed fear the two-week shutdown ordered by John L. Lewis for mines east of the Mississippi would continue past the deadline established by the fiery U.M.W. president.

Commenting on those fears, John P. Busarello, president of District No. 5, U.M.W., at Pittsburgh, said drily:

"I can only say x x x that this two-week period of mourning, called by President Lewis as a memorial to our nation's killed and injured in 1948 will conclude March 28."

Lewis, himself, didn't have any comment as the work stoppage went into its third day. He calls it a memorial period but also points out it's the miners' protest against appointment of Dr. James Boyd as director of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

The Senate's Interior Committee already has approved the Boyd appointment. Now, it's up to the Senate which is expected to act soon.

Shopkeepers serving the 463,000 idle miners reported the stores are beginning to feel the pinch of the work stoppage. So are the communities where furloughed railroad workers reside.

Coal-hauling railroads have laid off several thousand men and by the end of the week, through a system of furloughs, some 67,000 will be idle.

Meanwhile, other coal-dependent industries worked as usual. They're using the backlog of coal accumulated during a comparatively mild winter.

Chief Says Fire Training Courses Are Outstanding

Training courses which began last month for members of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association, have been outstandingly effective, Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, of this city told members of the association at its monthly meeting in New Paltz last night.

A schedule of new classes will start April 1, the chief said, and a total of 16 will be held. Deputy fire chiefs of the Kingston Fire Department received special training at Rochester to serve as instructors.

An estimated 300 area firemen attended the session at the American Legion building as guests of the New Paltz Fire Department, and a feature of the evening was a film, "You Can't Get Away with It," provided by Louis Hurley, area agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Charles Elmendorf of the Rifton Fire Department was elected first vice-president of the association to replace Ralph Lyons of Highland, who had resigned.

The meeting of the association will be held April 19 at Modena. The May meeting will be at Gardiner and in June the firemen will be guests of the Mt. Marion-Ruby Fire Department.

Late Bulletins

Pittsburgh, March 16 (AP)—A group of hard coal operators today urged U.M.W. President John L. Lewis to call off the three-day-old mine shutdown in their territory.

Directors of the Anthracite Operators' Association at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., sent Lewis a telegram, saying the two-week work stoppage was seriously affecting the health and welfare of the entire anthracite region of eastern Pennsylvania.

The telegram said: "Homes, hospitals, schools and other public institutions are now short of fuel. Furthermore, present and future anthracite markets are being seriously jeopardized. For the welfare of our employees, our communities, our consumers, and our industry, your 'no work' order should be rescinded as it applies to anthracite."

Attorney General Says Cemetery Bill Hit by Promoters

Albany, N. Y., March 16 (AP)—The state attorney general said today that "high pressure cemetery promoters" were campaigning to kill legislation designed to regulate non-profit cemeteries.

Nathaniel L. Goldstein declared that promoters, "whose own profiteering methods have been the objects of investigation and court action," had inspired what he called a "respectable front" campaign to defeat the measure.

Companion bills to set up state regulation of the non-profit cemeteries were introduced Feb. 14 by Senator Benjamin F. Feinberg and Assemblyman Lee E. Muller, G.O.P. legislative leaders.

Goldstein said in a statement that the promoters' campaign was launched Friday at a meeting of cemetery representatives in Syracuse.

"It is quite obvious that these men are against the bill because they have a lot to lose," Goldstein declared. He added:

"Cemeteries were intended to be operated in the public interest and for the mutual benefit of plot owners, but such operators have taken advantage of every one of the many loopholes in the old law to reap fortunes.

Goldstein identified those he labeled the "prime instigators" at the Syracuse meeting as:

"Jacob Singer, a member of a combine which controls a chain of richly profitable cemeteries in New York city; * * *

"Dr. Andrew M. Stannard, former dentist whose plan to buy a 73-acre section of Kensico Cemetery, Westchester county, was blocked last month in the Appellate Division by the attorney general * * *

"Alfred D. Locke, president, and a Mr. Barry, counsel, of Pine Lawn Cemetery, Suffolk county."

Goldstein said one of the cemeteries controlled by a combine of which he listed Singer as a member was the Cedar Grove-Mt. Hope Cemetery, Queens. This cemetery, he declared, "was drained of more than $2,200,000 in seven years by the combine."

The attorney general said it had been charged in court that Stannard and his associates stood to clean up $10,000,000 in profits on the (Kensico Cemetery) deal."

During investigation of the Pine Lawn Cemetery, Goldstein continued, "it was discovered that Miss Eleanor C. Hughes, Locke's aunt and secretary-treasurer of the cemetery, had sold to herself some 40,000 burial spaces for which she paid the cemetery approximately 27 1/2 cents each."

"These spaces sold to the public at $50 and up," he added.

Goldstein declared that invitations to the Syracuse meeting had been sent out on the stationery of the New York State Association of Cemeteries, which has about 280 of the larger cemeteries as members.

He said that the association president, Everett Stevens, and the group's secretary, whom he did not name, had declined to preside at the meeting.

"The Vatican estimates the number of U. S. Catholics increased from about 22,000,000 in 1939 to about 26,000,000 in 1949."

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Lays Off Twice to Set This Contract

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

One thing that makes bridge popular is that a player never becomes so good that he is perfect. Sometimes a tournament player who is not classed as an expert will make a play that is missed by one who is considered tops in the country.

That occurred on today's hand in the recent Vanderbilt Cup tournament, which was won by the team of Charles S. Lochridge, Lee Hazen, Harry J. Fishbein, Morris Ellis and Larry Hirsch, all of New York city.

This hand occurred in one of the earlier matches and Robert Abeles of New York city, sitting North, made a play that set the contract.

Both teams reached the same contract and the ten of hearts was opened at both tables. Abeles won the trick with the ace of hearts and returned a heart, which East won with the queen. Now East laid down the king of spades and Abeles let it hold the trick. When the queen of spades was led, he again let it hold. He did not win until the third round of spades was led. Then he returned a heart. Declarer was in, but there was no way that he could get into dummy.

When the hand was played at the other table, the expert sitting in the North position won the first heart trick with the ace and returned a heart; but when East played the king of spades, North won with the ace.

He led another heart, East won, cashed the ace of diamonds, then asked the queen of spades. When the jack fell, all East had to do was to cash the king of hearts, lead a small spade over to dummy's nine spot and cash the balance of the diamonds.

Here's a PRAISE-WINNING meal

Stud it with cloves and bake it as you would a ham; boil it New England style; try it sliced and broiled. It really doesn't matter, because when you serve a First Prize Daisy, the outcome is always the same... the platter invariably ends up slick and clean! There's no waste to a First Prize Daisy, you know... no bone to trim around, no fat to trim away... just downright luscious smoked pork with a flavor that builds-up a great demand for second helpings. Try a First Prize Daisy this week, won't you... for a prize-winning meal that's a praise-winner, too!

Village Rest Loses In Bridge City Play

Village Rest of Kingston bowed out in the first round of the Hudson Valley Basketball Tournament in Poughkeepsie, 41-52, to the Torosones of Poughkeepsie.

Sickler's Delivery made their tournament debut Wednesday against the Poughkeepsie Buccaneers. Torosones led the Villagers, 26-17, at the half. McConnell paced the locals with 15 points and Jack Doyle tossed in 11. Whitey Rathburn scored 14 for the winners.

The score: Torosones (52)—Rathburn 14, Straub 9, Murphy 12, Beyer 3, Curatolo 3, Piccolo 11.

Village Rest (41)—McConnell 15, Jordan 1, Doyle 11, Magly 4, Petraski 9, Ross 9, Grunwald 2.

Training Camp News in Brief

Vero Beach, Fla., March 16 (AP)—The hitting of rookie outfielder

Cal Abrams continues to be the talk in the camp of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Abrams, a Brooklyn native, got two singles against the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday to boost his total to eight for 13, a blistering 538 pace.

Phoenix, Ariz., March 16 (AP)—Johnny Mize, slugging New York Giant first baseman, is resting a stiff knee. Mize stumbled on the base paths recently and is taking things easy.

Tucson, Ariz., March 16 (AP)—For a player who came along strictly on a trial basis, Roy Welton, 27-year-old Negro hurler, wasn't doing so badly today with the Cleveland Indians.

The southpaw veteran of the Negro National League yesterday hurled his second straight relief victory over the New York Giants, blanking the New Yorkers in three innings he pitched. Cleveland won the game, 9 to 8.

Sarasota, Fla., March 16 (AP)—One of the questions plaguing Boston's Red Sox and their supporters in the American League last season may be answered partly today when Tex Hughson takes the mound against the St. Louis Cardinals.

Tex pitched 19 not so hot innings last season. He wasn't much help in 1947. In his batting practice stints he has looked good. Today's test should shed some light on the potentialities of the Sox pitcher. Bobby Thayer also will play his first exhibition game today, at his regular second base station.

Brandenton, Fla., March 16 (AP)—Boston's Braves, flogged 11-1 by the Cincinnati Reds yesterday, will oppose Detroit's Tigers under new Manager Red Rolfe today.

Newcomer Bob Hall and Big Bill Voiselle, slimmer than usual, have been assigned by Tribal Manager Billy Southworth to oppose the Tigers.

Mass Migration For 'Big Game'

More than 500 strong and not a pessimist in a carload, Kingston High School basketball supporters are ready for the 90-mile trek to Saratoga Springs for Saturday's inter-sectional classic between the Maroon and undefeated Mont Pleasant of Schenectady.

The recent tabulations of Kentucky and St. Louis in the National Invitation Tournament in New York prove that anything can happen—and often does—to topheavy favorites in basketball.

Not that Kingston supporters ever lost faith in the Maroon, but many have been irked by upstate reports that Mont Pleasant would roll over a club that whipped them in last year's sensational overtime thriller.

Maroon in Shape Since the recent Section 2 tournament, estimates on the Red Raiders' superiority have been revised sharply downward.

Coach C. Warren Kias said today that Kingston was in shape for the contest. He even expressed the hope that Joe Albany, hero of last year's battle, might be able to play for at least a quarter.

The feature game will start at 8:30 p. m. and will be preceded by a preliminary between finalists in Class B of Section 2.

The Kingston caravan will be made up of buses and private cars, with three buses chartered by the high school. This group leaves the school at 3 p. m. Saturday. Several other buses have been chartered by individuals and private groups.

Space for 4,300 Fans Convention Hall, one of the finest basketball layouts in the upstate area, seats 3,800 fans comfortably, with additional space for 1,500 students or a gross of 4,300.

Kingston's allotment of 156 reserved seats were snapped up quickly and several hundred requests had to be turned down. Section 2 officials, promoters of the contest, are confident there will be a seat for every Kingston fan who attends the contest.

Still workouts are planned for the Maroon today and Thursday with a practice game finishing off the training on Friday. Coach Kias summed up the general attitude of Kingston supporters when he said: "This club has won every ball game it had to, with one exception. We think we can do it again."

Ulster Park Defeats Ashokan Five, 55-39

Ulster Park's smooth clicking junior basketball quintet rolled over Ashokan, 55-39, last night on the Willowick court.

Ahead 31-22 at the half, the winners dominated the contest after the recess on steady scoring by J. Pecora and Bob Burger. Pecora was the individual star with 22 points, while Burger tossed in a dozen. Oakley led Ashokan with 19 and G. Jackson had 12.

The boxscore: Ulster Park (55) FG FP TP R. Burger, f 6 0 12 B. Hooper, f 0 0 0 F. Bickert, f 4 0 8 M. Koslovski, f, c 2 1 5 R. Terwilliger, c 3 1 7 J. Pecora, g 10 2 22 R. Monetti, g 0 0 0 W. Hernandez, g 0 1 1 Total 25 5 55

Turnesa Loses

Elmsford, N. Y., March 16 (AP)—Municipal matters won't interfere with Willie Turnesa's golf this year. The national amateur champion was defeated in his race for mayor of this Westchester county community.

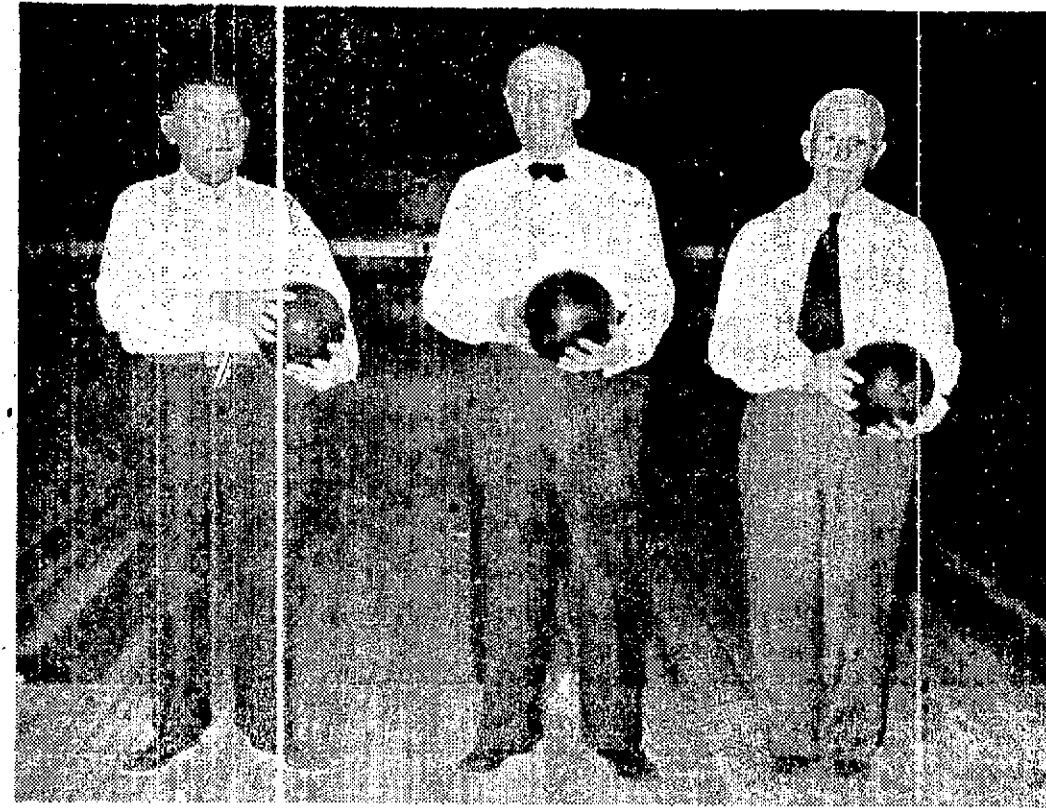

The incumbent, George L. McElroy, was elected for his sixth straight term, polling 887 votes to 675 for the golfer.

Still Clicking at 214 Years

The combined age of the three gentlemen above is 214 years, yet each is able to bowl a pretty good score today. Featured at the informal opening of the Bowlorium last Saturday night were, in the usual order, John S. Rabble, Arthur Carr and Frank Thompson. They were given the honor of rolling down the first ball and then rolled a complete singles. Mr. Carr has been knocking down pins a mere 49 years. (Photo by MacLellan)

In The Pocket

with CHARLIE TIANO

Sickler Delivery's absence from Lou Schafer's fifth annual basketball tournament which gets under way on Friday of this week, is a big surprise to everyone. Basketball experts tell you that Lou killed his best boxoffice attraction when he legislated against the group of ex-high school players who in previous seasons represented Dawkins Favorites.

This year they were to represent Sickler's Juniors. Sickler partisans insist that because of a new rule, Schafer forced the ex-Maroons out of the tournament and set up a championship with just so many humpty-dumpty boxoffice lures. Some of the more rabid even predicted that spectators would be conspicuous by their presence.

Frankly, we are not in a position to gauge the basketball pulse. Neither are we taking sides in this squabble. We figure that Lou Schafer knows what he is doing, and that Sickler's are entitled to the chance to speak their little piece.

The little piece arrived today in the form of a letter from Len Sickler, sponsor of the various Delivery teams. It is presented in unabridged form:

March 13, 1949
133 Downs Street
Kingston, N. Y.

Charles J. Tiano, Spts. Ed.
Daily Freeman
Kingston, N. Y.
Dear Charlie:

As last year's Mid-Hudson Valley basketball tournament winners, we would like to inform you and our basketball friends of Kingston, the reason for our absence from this year's competition.

Letting out Mr. Schafer's word that this year's tournament would be far superior to any of those in the past, we began making our preparations long before any entry blanks were printed.

We made arrangements to be represented by two clubs with some of the best available local talent. These teams were to be known as the "Sickler Colonials" and "Sickler Juniors."

The Colonials with Buddy Smith, Andy Celuch and Gus Koch were almost the identical squad of last year's tournament winner and conqueror of this year's favorite, the Woodridge Atoms.

The Sickler Juniors (this year's ex-high school varsity) along with Big Ed Weaver and Red Sargent would have presented Mr. Schafer with his biggest drawing attraction. Not until several weeks before tournament play did we learn of this year's new rule which prohibits teams from using players who were not regular members during the season.

In the past five years of this tournament, no such rule has ever been used. It is our opinion that this rule favored the out-of-town ball clubs and weakened the local clubs. There is no possible way, we think, to accurately check the lineup of outsiders who have averaged some 25 games or more throughout the season.

In conclusion, other teams could strengthen their squads while local college boys, who have played for the past several years, are forced out by this ruling. We hope that in the future Mr. Schafer will change this rule in order to allow our Kingston boys to play again and represent the city with teams equally strong as those brought in by the outsiders.

Hoping you will print this and thanking you in advance, we remain,
Yours in sport,
LEN SICKLER

Bowling Green Choice Over S.F.U.

New York, March 16 (AP)—Bowling Green of Ohio, perhaps the hottest team at the moment in college basketball, will carry a 15-game winning streak into the semi-finals of the National Invitation Tournament tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden.

The Fighting Falcons, who haven't dropped a decision since Jan. 11 when they bowed 63-61 to Kentucky, rule a four-point favorite over San Francisco. The other semi-final, which opens the program at 8 p. m. (E.S.T.) matches Loyola of Chicago and Bradley University on a "take-your-choice" basis.

Bowling Green has become a solid favorite to take the championship after the surprising quarter-final explosion of top-ranked Kentucky and defending champion St. Louis.

Loyola, 67-56 winner over Kentucky, has gained many supporters. Jack Kerris, the Loyola center who shackled the Cats' big Alex Groza, is one of the tournament's individual standouts.

Bradley will be hard to trip if it can maintain the drive and scoring punch it showed in upsetting Western Kentucky, 95 to 86. San Francisco has a team of juniors and soph, full of fight and hustle.

Among the unique features of the Kingston Y.M.C.A.-Mid-Hudson basketball tournament is the presence of 14 sets of brothers, three high school coaches and a Lutheran minister.

The tournament opens Friday night at the Y court with the Woodstock Varsity paired against Company B, National Guard of Hudson; and Pine Plains A.A. vs. Phenicia.

The minister is the Rev. Fred Reissig of the Germantown Lutheran Church.

Three high school coaches in the cast are Jack Kroh, of Marienborough, ex-Kingston Recreation player; Norman Schwartz, Ellenville; and Guy Nunnally of Roxbury, who is the Scranton Red Sox catcher.

Brother combinations competing are:

Charles and Leonard Martella, Stamford; Marshall and Peter Mannese, Marlborough; Richard and Robert Terwilliger and Donald and Clifford Schoonmaker, of Accord, playing with Potter Bros.

Also, Benjamin and Paul Scordina of Germantown; Ralph and Jasper Cook of the Middletown Claim House; Donald and William McPherson of Pine Plains; Douglas and Edward Clark of Phenicia.

Three on One Team:

The Catskill Boys Club will be represented by three sets of brothers: Curtis and Gilbert Spencer; Carl and Arthur Gustavson; and Wallace and Robert Hitchcock. Then there are three more combos, Donald and Forrest Willis of the Millbrook Colored Glants; Andre and Barry Neher of Woodstock; and George and Bill Glaser of Kingston.

Both Phenicia and Woodstock quitters which open the tournament Friday will bring with them a large delegation of spectators and cheer leaders.

Democrats Gain In Westchester

New York, March 16 (AP)—Municipal elections in four nearby counties were highlighted yesterday by several surprise Democratic victories in usually Republican Westchester county towns.

Eighty-nine elections were held in Westchester, Rockland, Nassau and Suffolk county villages.

At Dobbs Ferry, Walter B. Danahur, a Democrat, defeated the Republican incumbent, Anthony Palino, in the mayoralty contest. But Republicans remained in control of the town's trustees.

Milton A. Gibbons, a retired police sergeant, won on the Democratic ticket as mayor of Tuckahoe, beating Mayor M. Francis Dutton, a Republican, and shattering a 14-year Republican record.

Democrats gained control of the village board of Hastings-on-Hudson by a three-to-two margin, and elected Paul G. Lauffer as mayor. He defeated Burton T. Bliss, the Republicans previously were dominant on the village board.

In Ardsley, Albert P. Denari, Republican, became mayor by defeating his Democratic and Citizens party opponents.

At Tarrytown, Charles S. Haines, advocate of a plan for merging Tarrytown and North Tarrytown, was elected mayor by a slim margin of 19 votes over William Livingston, Liberty candidate. Haines ran on an independent ticket.

Edward T. Gorman, Democrat, was elected mayor of North Tarrytown, defeating John B. Whalen, Good Government and Patriots party nominee.

At Elmsford, Mayor George L. McElroy, a Democrat running with Republican support, was re-elected for his sixth consecutive term, defeating Willie Turnesa, United States amateur golf champion.

Alleged Slayers Held at Mineola

Mineola, N. Y., March 16 (AP)—Returned here from Michigan, two alleged "lonely hearts" slayers were in jail under heavy guard today.

Nassau County District Attorney James N. Gehrig said he hopes to present their case before a grand jury next week.

The pair, holding Raymond M. Fernandez, 34, and his 200-pound girl friend, Mrs. Martha Beck, 29, were flown here yesterday from Grand Rapids.

They are accused in Nassau county of slaying Mrs. Janet Fay, 50-year-old Albany, N. Y. widow, in Valley Stream. Her body was found buried in a basement in Ozone Park, Queens.

The two waived examination when arraigned yesterday in District Court.

In Michigan, they are charged with killing another widow, Mrs. Delphine Downing, 29, and her infant daughter, Kairrell.

All three slayings, authorities said, grew out of a correspondence scheme to swindle lonely women out of their savings and property.

The two were brought here under an agreement between Michigan and New York that they will be returned to Michigan for trial, if they are not convicted here.

New York's top penalty for murder is death. Michigan has no capital punishment.

Expect Peace Talks

Nanking, March 16 (AP)—Premier Ho Ying-chin said he believes peace negotiations with the Communists will open "very soon." He made his prediction to newsmen as March 15 passed without receiving any definite word from the Communists that they would talk peace.

Former Premier Sun Fo, previously had said the negotiations would begin in Peking sometime after March 15. He is still trying to form a cabinet. He has the problem of finding ministers acceptable to the Communists and at the same time men who will enable the government to present a United front.
